TERRY REBUILDING GIANTS

New York.—Manager Bill Terry has made his first move to rebuild the New York Giants, who tied for sixth place with the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league pennant race, one of the outstanding failures of the major league season.

Terry announced he had traded Southpaw Pitchers Bill Walker and Jim Mooney, Catcher Bob O'Farrell and Outfielder Ethan Allen to the Cardinals for right hand Pitcher Ray Starr and Catcher Gus Mancuso. It was an even swap, with no money involved.

Manager Memphis Bill admitted this trade was just the beginning of a general reorganization of the club. He offered no intimations as to the principals in future deals, but it is generally understood that Mel Ott, Carl Hubbell, Freddie Linton and perhaps Shanty Hogan are the only giants at all certain to be at the Polo grounds next season.

Wants New Blood

Terry said he wanted to inject new blood into the club. He believes several of the players have gone stale by remaining in the same environment too long, and that they will snap out of their lethargy in other uniforms.

Walker and Mooney had poor seasons. Walker finished with 8 wins and 12 lost. O'Farrell, second string catcher, is 35 years old and well past his prime. Allen was on the bench most of the season playing in only a few games.

The two players from St. Louis look like winners. Terry Mancuso is rated one of the most promising catchers in the big leagues, although he played second fiddle to Jimmy Wilson in St. Louis. He can hit, field, peg and has a good head. He is 27, bats and throws right-handed.

Starr is more or less an unknown. He made an excellent showing with Rochester of the International league last season, and when the Cards brought him back to the home club late in the season he turned in a couple of dazzling performances for them, most notable of which was his 8-0 shutout over Brooklyn when pitted against Dazzy Vance.

Mooney looked like a big timer at the close of the 1931 season when the Giants brought him up from Charlotte, N. C. He turned in several noteworthy shutouts, but in 1932 he was unable to get going. Likewise Walker, a speed ball artist, couldn't get under way.

When the Giants were training on the Pacific coast last spring they were touted as virtually invincible. But they made such a pathetic showing that even John J. McGraw, baseball's Little Napoleon, despaired of boosting them out of their doldrums, and resigned. Terry succeeded McGraw in June, when the Giants were in last place, and managed to bring them up to a 5th place tie.

JIMMIE FOX MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

New York.—Jimmy Fox, the ruddy faced Maryland farm boy who became home run king of the major leagues, has been chosen by the baseball experts as the Ameri-

A very handsome woman, that Mrs. Miller, said she had no change, handed the conductor a five bill. I'm sorry, she said, but I haven't a nickel.

Applauder for Position: Yes sir, I just graduated from college. Executive: Fine. Ever do any fishing throwing? We tried a pole vaulter, a broad jumper, and a star halfback in our auditing department, but they didn't make good.

Business Man: Well name your terms, my man. I've been looking for a salesman like you for years.

can league's most valuable player, the third member of the Philadelphia Athletics to receive the award in five years.

Count Mack's slugging first baseman who came within two four baggers of tying Babe Ruth's all time home run record of 60, received the valuable distinction for 1932 just as his teammates Lefty Grove and Mickey Cochrane were designated in 1931 and 1928, respectively.

Fox's campaign for the award was one of the most amazing in big league history. In 1931, he ranked No. 25, last on the list of those given points in the voting for honors. He rose from last to first place in the short span of one year's play. In addition to his home run achievements, he was barely moved out for the American league batting championship by Dale Alexander finished with an average of .367 and Fox with .361.

here formally Fox's selection was a mere formality when a committee of eight members of the Baseball Writers association cast their ballots. The award was announced by J. Roy Stockton, of St. Louis, chairman of the committee.

Jimmie received 75 points out of a possible 80. He was the first choice of five, second choice of one, and third choice of the remaining two members of the committee. Lou Gehrig, heavy hitting first baseman of the New York Yankees came second with 55 points. Lou was first choice of one, second choice of four, and third choice of one. Helme Hanson, left fielder of the Washington Senators, came third with 31 points, four more than were given Earl Averill, center fielder of the Cleveland Indians who ranked fourth, the same position he occupied last year.

In the American League selections, 18 players were mentioned in the balloting in which each of the eight writers listed to candidates in order of preference. The points were figured on the basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc.

Results of the American poll follow: Fox, Philadelphia 75; Gehrig, New York 55; Manual, Washington 41; Averill, Cleveland 37; Gomez, New York 27; Cronin, Washington 28; Ruth, New York 26; Lazzari, New York 21; Sime, Boston 12; Gehrig, Detroit 12; Alexander, Boston 10; Cissell, Cleveland 10; R. Ferrell, St. Louis 9; Grove, Philadelphia 8; J. Allen, New York 8; Dickey, New York 8; Goslin, St. Louis 7; Weaver, Washington 6.

husband, my dear, we simply must get rid of that cook. But you ever see a more frightful chop than the one I've just put on my plate.

Wife.—Yes, dear. The one you have just put on mine.

Patient.—Doctor, I've got a pain in my throat.

Doctor.—H'm! Tonsils. Soon have those out.

Patient, a month later.—Doctor, this pain just here.

Doctor.—Appendix. Soon have that out.

Patient, some weeks later.—Doctor, I don't know what's wrong. I want to mention it, but I've a frightful headache.

Teacher.—Raymond, can you see the nonsense?

Raymond.—Yes, teacher an elephant hanging over a cliff with its tail tied to a Daisy.

Say Arnes, that guy I saw you with last night looked like a flat tire to me.

Yeah, I'm gonna use him for a spare from now on.

Toussaint Dealer (after several futile suggestions).—How would just a simple 'Gene Home' do for an inscription?

The Widow.—I guess that will be all right. It was always the last place he ever thought of going.

The poet was famous, but the landlord wanted his rent. "I want my rent," he exclaimed, "and I want it today. If I don't get it, tomorrow people will be pointing out this house as the place where you once lived."

Mother (to little son).—Can you tell me the name of the worm whose labors have helped to produce my new, beautiful silk gown, Allister.—Yes, Papa!

First Gaffer.—Shall we play an other round next Monday.

Second Gaffer.—Well, I was to be married on Monday.—By I'm sure we can arrange it.

Editor.—Why on earth did you accept this story.

Assistant.—We're all out of rejection slips.

Mistress.—Your references seem to suggest that you frequently change your place.

New Cook.—Yes, my fiancée is with a travelling circus.

Victor (at station).—Is this the 2:15 train?

Station Agent.—We're nothing so precise as that sir, we just call it the afternoon train.

Did you ever hear from that money you loaned your neighbor?—I should say I did. He bought a radio with it.

Teacher.—Willie, what in an essay?

Willie.—A place where transatlantic liners change their courses.

INTERNATIONAL HARVESTER CROP PRICE GUARANTY

Take advantage of this offer... Get the new equipment you need to reduce your production costs

Many farmers who need new machines for the economical production of their crops have been reluctant to buy them because of uncertainty as to the prices they will receive later in the year for these farm products.

In order to meet this situation, the International Harvester Company of Canada, Ltd., offers to farmers purchasing machines after this date, a definite price guaranty on wheat based on 77 cents a bushel for No. 1 Northern at Winnipeg, applying to a liberal portion of the purchase price of the machine. If the market price for wheat does not reach the guaranteed price at the time payment becomes due on notes given and maturing this year, the purchaser of machines under the plan will receive a credit equal to the difference.

Any farmer in Canada, regardless of where he lives or what he raises, can purchase McCormick-Deering farm machines under the terms of this offer.

This is your chance to replace wornout and obsolete equipment on a favorable price basis. Let us explain the details of this remarkable plan and tell you just how to take advantage of it in equipping your farm with the new cost-reducing machines you need at a real saving.

WINNIPEG BRIDGE PLAYER
COMPLETES CONTRACT
SYSTEM

Winnipeg—The first all Canadian official contract bridge system ever to be devised was offered to the public today by Frank J.
Taylor, one of Winnipeg's best known contract bridge players.

Taylor, well known in local sports circles through his many years connection with Wesley park baseball, has evolved a new system which he calls the Canadian Contract Bridge system.

While it is built partly on the official system worked out by Lenz, Work and others, and partly on the Caberton method of play yet it contains radical departures from both systems, calculated to simplify the bidding, convey the most information and do the most damage to opposing players who overbid their hands.

Taylor has made it quite plain in his little book, just off the press, that his system is not for the professional; only for the advanced and studious player. He contends mastery of it will improve an player's eye, yet he lacks a warning to those who may adopt the system without completely mastering it that it packs trouble for those who use it carelessly.

For instance the official system
involuntary two club bid requires
the partner to bid two diamonds
if his hand does not contain an ace
and a king, or two no trump if it contains an ace and a king. Thus
the original bidder must bid three
before his partner can tell him
which ace he possesses. In no case can the partner permit a two club
bid to go by.

In Taylor's system the partner's response to a two club forcing bid
is a pass if there is an intervening
bid. If he has an ace he cannot bid immediately. Thus on the second round, with the bidding no higher than two the original declarer at ready has learned something about
his partner's hand, which he had
not learned under a three bid under the official system.

There are many features to be found in Taylor's book which will commend themselves to the thoughtful player, anxious to improve his game. The only way to determine the worth of the book
is to read it.

found in Taylor's book which will

thoughtful player, anxious to improve his game. The only way to determine the worth of the book
is to read it.

For instance the official system
involuntary two club bid requires
the partner to bid two diamonds
if his hand does not contain an ace
and a king, or two no trump if it contains an ace and a king. Thus
the original bidder must bid three
before his partner can tell him
which ace he possesses. In no case
can the partner permit a two club
bid to go by.

In Taylor's system the partner's
response to a two club forcing bid
is a pass if there is an intervening
bid. If he has an ace he cannot bid immediately. Thus on the second round, with the bidding no higher
than two the original declarer at
ready has learned something about
his partner's hand, which he had
not learned under a three bid under the official system.

There are many features to be

Constructive

Alberta Pool and Alberta Pool Elevators are constructive forces in Alberta agriculture.

The perpetuation and further development of these organizations should be the concern of all Alberta grain growers.
